

The Oslo

Oslo, the capital of Norway, can be found at the head of the Oslofjord. With the city being known for its wide-open spaces, the Oslo villa likewise welcomes its visitors with an open-floor concept. The living room & dining room open up to each other, while the kitchen sits in the corner facing both the living room & dining room - perfect for entertaining or just open conversation during meal preparations. The centerpiece of this home is a large floor-to-ceiling stone fireplace centered on the living room which is flanked by arched entrances to the master suite & guest quarters. The master suite faces the back yard with a private bathroom featuring a walk-in tile shower, a walk-in closet & plenty of natural light.

Exterior architecture that invites friends and family in and accommodates any occasion is what all of Norway Pines' villas have in mind. The back deck and front porch are tucked away and covered, keeping consistent comfort during the ever-changing winds & temperatures of the Midwest. The back and front yards are adorned with trees, shrubs and a lush green lawn with Cherry Lake, its beach and park only a short walk away down the winding bike path only accessible by the homeowners of Cherry Lake Reserve.
